Teentech 2018 - CONNECTING GIRLS AND TECHNOLOGY

Teentech is a project of the American Association of University Women New Jersey (AAUW NJ) in collaboration with various New Jersey colleges/universities. Teentech is designed to encourage young women to further their education in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math (STEM) fields.

AAUW's report, Gender Gaps, indicated that young women lag behind young men in acquiring technical proficiencies. The report cites evidence that girls are more likely to use technology when they see its real-world applications. AAUW's research, Why So Few?, documents that women are still underrepresented in high-demand, high-paying STEM careers.

Teentech will be a day of hands-on workshops designed to demonstrate that technology, engineering, and computer science are exciting and relevant. High school girls from all over the state will work together with faculty and students of the host institution to learn and practice technology-based problem-solving in a college laboratory setting. Students must be accompanied by educators who will have their own workshop experience and panel discussion of how to encourage girls to pursue STEM education and career.

PLANNING COMMITTEE

AAUW NJ: Karen Brown, Teentech Coordinator; Dawn Domans, Registration Coordinator; Carol Cohen, President; Mariel Kolker, AAUW STEM Chair

AAUW's mission is to advance equity for women and girls through advocacy, education, philanthropy, and research. Our 170,000 members and supporters span local and virtual communities, cities and college campuses. On campuses, we foster the next generation of women in leadership and in the workplace. After graduation, we mentor, fund, and support educational and professional development. From college through career and beyond, we're working to change the future. Website: www.aauwnj.org

GEORGIAN COURT UNIVERSITY: Amani Jennings, Dean of Students; Dr. Mary Chinery, Dean of the School of Arts and Sciences; Dr. Janice Warner, Dean of the School of Business and Digital Media School of Education; Dr. Lynn DeCapua, Dean of the School of Education; Erin McCarron, Director of Student Activities.

Founded in 1908, Georgian Court University provides a comprehensive liberal arts education and maintains its historic special concern for women. The university offers a curriculum that is broad enough to be truly liberal, yet specialized enough to provide in-depth preparation for careers or further study.
